Celestial Earth Minerals & Mineral of the Month Club

April Monthly Offerings

Hello:

Hello and Happy Spring to everyone.

The featured mineral, malachite will be available in both fibrous and botryoidal forms. Several pieces are a combination of both.

On the monthly offerings sheet you will find a few unusual items; Chris's pick of the month is clear celestine and calcite which is a unique combination. For the fossil lovers we have available gorgeous 135- million-year - old ammonite fossils that were purchased in Tucson this year.

In the newsletter you will also find Mother's Day gift giving ideas.

Coming in May

The featured mineral for May will be the Tessin variety of quartz from Peru's Pachapacqui mining district.

What we love about the tessin quartz is that it is a rare crystal habit and like calcite, quartz's characteristics takes on many forms and colors. The write-up in May will go over this in detail.
