Tonight's Update will be released at 8PM US Mtn Time

Hi Folks

We are releasing our New Additions Update tonight (Jan. 27) at 8PM US Mtn time.

We are currently in Tucson, and will not be able to ship your orders until our return at the end of the month. However, for the trouble, we can offer you a 10% discount IF you complete and pay for ALL your order(s) by tomorrow. You must also respond to this email to let me know. Just send the email back with "coupon please" in the subject line. This includes previously held orders in your queue. The coupon will be applied to future orders only.

Of note, we found a collection of sulfides and sulfosalts on the drive down. It is a nice medium size collection we hope to bring home by April.

Tucson is just now gaining momentum. We picked up some "grape agate". It is a nice purple color in grape-like bunches. More news tomorrow.
